THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1911.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Barre's banks start their new year well.

Vermont evidently needs a "primary" class.

The Selden patent is now the seldom patent.

Don't forget the soldiers' monument meeting to-night.

Boston, by yesterday's vote, is still an irrigated section.

The Ford automobile displayed its staying qualities in the law courts.

According to the health officer, Barre has been "whooping 'er up" too much during the past month.

A good wallet protector while hunting in Vermont is a thin sheet of paper, inscribed with a license to hunt and made out to bearer.

The falling of several stringers on a Central Vermont bridge near Montpelier is a reminder of those days when the engines used to drop their ashtrays.

ANOTHER SANATORIUM FOR TUBERCULOSIS.

There is little doubt that the commission which was appointed by Gov. Mead yesterday to investigate and report concerning the advisability of establishing a sanatorium for advanced cases of tuberculosis will discover that there is a great need for such an institution in Vermont; in fact, need for more than one, as tuberculosis is one of the greatest destroyers of life in Vermont at the present time. The Proctor sanatorium at Pittsford is doing effective work in a small way, but its sphere is circumscribed by limited accommodations and, at the same time, it will not receive patients who are in advanced stages of the disease. That leaves the major portion of the population, having the disease, without medical treatment, except that afforded in their own homes and under the care of resident physicians. Without question, a great deal of good might be done among the patients who are not acceptable to the institution at Pittsford; and from the economic standpoint the state can afford to invest in at least one institution of this sort. It is to be hoped that the state will find a way to provide for the establishment of the institution proposed.
